DESCRIPTION

This attractive detached bungalow set in a private plot is within easy reach of the North Coast, Truro, and the surrounding countryside. Well-presented and maintained throughout by the owners, the generous accommodation includes three well sized double bedrooms, one with an en-suite bathroom. A family bathroom serves the other two bedrooms which both have fantastic views over the woodland garden.

The living accommodation includes a wide entrance hallway, sitting room with wood burner, dining room with sliding door to rear decking area, and modern kitchen with electric hob and oven, integrated dishwasher a range of fitted kitchen units. Adjacent to the kitchen is a utility room which the current owners use as pantry storage and to house the fridge/freezer and microwave.

OUTSIDE

To the front and sides of the property are two driveways catering for around 7/8 cars, a single garage, a good size front garden which is screened from the road by mature hedging, a wide side pathway gives access to the rear garden.

The rear gardens have recently undergone extensive landscaping to now offer a large and attractive garden separated into different areas with meandering paths and steps connecting the different zones, there are two newly installed decked seating areas to enjoy. There are also areas of loose granite chippings offering reduced maintenance and dwarf stone walls. The garden is extremely private and a real rural oasis with its mature shrubs and trees. The immediate back of the property opens out onto an extensive decked area which looks out over the garden and gives you the feeling of being nestled in the treetops. Below this are a couple of different levels of lawn divided by flower and shrub borders, the bottom section of garden is a natural wooded space which is abundant with wildlife and gives complete privacy.

The current owners have installed an inset, moulded hot tub plus a large timber studio/ gym with power and lighting, both of which are included in the sale of this home.
