There is another enclosed portion of lawn that was formally used as a grass tennis court, surrounded by conifer hedging, as well as a hard tennis court next to that, enclosed by tall wire fencing. There is a strip of land to the rear of the property that isn't currently enclosed but does join up with the paddock to the right of the property and has a single timber stable. The paddock itself is enclosed by timber fencing and would be suitable for animals or as additional garden space
